April 2002: producer price index + 0.4%

In April 2002, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has increased by 0.4%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows an increase by 0.5% for energy and an increase by 0.3% for total industry except energy. A further break-down of total industry except energy obtains +0.9% for intermediate goods, except energy, -0.1% for capital goods, +0.2% for non-durable consumer goods and -0.3% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly increase may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual inflation rate of 4.8%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a fall of 0.1% on the domestic market and a rise of 0.4% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to April of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has decreased by 1.2%. For the domestic market it fell by 1.4%, for the non-domestic markets there was a fall of 2.1%.

After the fall of prices in 2001, especially in the second half of the year, producer prices seem to stabilize and even slightly rise again since the beginning of the year.

June 2002: producer price index + 0,1%

In June 2002, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has increased by 0,1%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a decrease by 0,5% for energy and an increase by 0,2% for total industry except energy. A further break-down of total industry except energy obtains +0,2% for intermediate goods, except energy, -0,1% for capital goods, +0,0% for non-durable consumer goods and +0,4% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly increase may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual inflation rate of 1,2%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a fall of 0,4% on the domestic market and a rise of 0,3% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to June of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has decreased by 0,4%. For the domestic market it fell by 1,4%, for the non-domestic markets there was a fall of 1,2%.

SEI Persbericht

Belgium - December 2002: Output price index - 0.3%

In December 2002, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has decreased by 0.3%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a decrease by 0.4% for energy and a decrease by 0.4% for total industry except energy. A further break-down of total industry except energy obtains +0.0% for intermediate goods, except energy, -0.7% for capital goods, +0.0% for non-durable consumer goods and +0.0% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly decrease may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual deflation rate of 4.1%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a fall of 0.2% on the domestic market and a fall of 0.6% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to December of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has increased by 1.4%. For the domestic market it rose by 2.2%, for the non-domestic markets there was a status quo (+0.0%).

Belgium - May 2003: Output price index - 0.6%

In May 2003, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has decreased by 0.6%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a decrease by 0.4% for energy and a decrease by 0.6% for total industry except energy. A further break-down of total industry except energy obtains -0.5% for intermediate goods, except energy, -0.8% for capital goods, -0.3% for non-durable consumer goods and +0.0% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly decrease may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual deflation rate of 7.1%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a fall of 0.5% on the domestic market and a fall of 0.6% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to May of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has decreased by 0.4%. For the domestic market it rose by 1.3%, for the non-domestic markets there was a fall of 1.5%.

The strong decline of the price index is almost entirely due to the lower prices for refined petroleum products and products of the chemical industry.

Belgium - June 2003: Output price index - 0.2%

In June 2003, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has decreased by 0.2%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a status quo (+0.0%) for energy and a decrease by 0.3% for total industry except energy. A further breakdown of total industry except energy obtains +0.1% for intermediate goods, except energy, -0.4% for capital goods, -0.1% for non-durable consumer goods and +0.1% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly decrease may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual deflation rate of 2.8%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a fall of 0.4% on the domestic market and a fall of 0.1% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to June of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has decreased by 0.9%. For the domestic market it rose by 0.9%, for the non-domestic markets there was a fall of 2.0%.

NIS Persbericht

Belgium - December 2003: Output price index + 0,1%

In December 2003, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has increased by 0,1%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a decrease by 0,2% for energy and an increase by 0,1% for total industry except energy. A further break-down of total industry except energy obtains +0,2% for intermediate goods, except energy, +0,1% for capital goods, +0,0% for non-durable consumer goods and -0,2% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly increase may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual inflation rate of 0,8%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a status quo (+0,0%) on the domestic market and a rise of 0,2% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to December of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has decreased by 0,4%. For the domestic market it fell by 0,3%, for the non-domestic markets there was a fall of 0,2%.

Belgium - April 2004: Output price index + 0,6%Inflation in industry accelerates

In April 2004, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has increased by 0.6%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows an increase by 3.1% for energy and an increase by 0.4% for total industry except energy. A further break-down of total industry except energy obtains +0.5% for intermediate goods, except energy, +0.8% for capital goods, +0.1% for non-durable consumer goods and +0.0% for durable consumer goods.

The monthly increase may also be expressed annually, resulting in an annual inflation rate of 7.0%.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a rise of 1.0% on the domestic market and a rise of 0.2% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to April of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has increased by 2.6%. For the domestic market it rose by 2.5%, for the non-domestic markets there was a rise of 2.0%.

Following some years of stagnation and even a slight deflation, the products prices of our industry have increased considerably in the last months. In the meantime, the rise of raw material prices on the global market has clearly influenced price-fixing in Belgian industry. The purchase of a raw material such as steel can now be 40% more expensive than some months ago. In industry as a whole, inflation since the beginning of the year amounts to 2.7%; on a yearly basis, this corresponds to 11.1%. A striking feature is the fact that products for the domestic market +3.6% show significantly higher price-rises than those for export (+1.2%).

Branches purchasing big amounts of raw materials are of course most afflicted: manufacture of basic metals (+13.7%) and fabricated metal products (+6.0%) and the chemical industry (+5.5%).

FOD ECONOMIE, K.M.O., MIDDENSTAND EN ENERGIE
Press Release

Thursday May, 26nd 2005

Belgium - April 2005: Output price index status quo (+0,0%)

In April 2005, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction shows a status quo (+0,0%). A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a decrease by 0,8% for energy and an increase by 0,1% for total industry except energy. A further breakdown of total industry except energy obtains +0,2% for intermediate goods, except energy, +0,3% for capital goods, +0,3% for durable consumer goods and -0,1% for non-durable consumer goods.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a fall of 0,2% on the domestic market and a rise of 0,2% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to April of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has increased by 3,3%. For the domestic market it rose by 2,9%, for the non-domestic markets there was a rise of 3,3%.

PRESSEMITTEILUNG

Donnerstag 30 Juni 2005

Belgien - Mai 2005: Erzeugerpreisindex-0,2%

Gegenüber dem Vormonat ist der Erzeugerpreisindex der gesamten Industrie ohne Energie im Mai 2005 um 0,2% zurückgelaufen. Wenn man diese Zahl aufteilt in Energie und den Rest, ergibt sich eine Zunahme um 1,7% für Energie und einen Abfall um 0,3% für die gesamte Industrie ohne Energie. Eine weitere Aufschlüsselung der gesamten Industrie ohne Energie zeigt -0,7% für Grundstoffe und Produktionsgüter ohne Energie, +0,0% für Investitionsgüter, +0,2% für Verbrauchsgüter und +0,4% für Gebrauchsgüter. Wird der allgemeine Erzeugerpreisindex nach der Bestimmung aufgegliedert, sieht man einen Rückgang 0,2% auf dem Inlandmarkt und Abnahme um 0,2% auf dem Auslandmarkt.

Gegenüber Mai des Vorjahres ist der Erzeugerpreisindex der gesamten Industrie ohne Energie um 2,4% angestiegen. Auf dem Inlandmarkt nahm er um 2,0% zu, auf dem Auslandmarkt gab es einen Anstieg um 2,6%.

FPS ECONOMY SELF-EMPLOYED AND ENERGY
Press Release

Thursday October, 27nd 2005

Belgium - September 2005: Output price index +0,1%

In September 2005, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has increased by 0,1%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows a decrease by 0,7% for energy and an increase by 0,2% for total industry except energy. A further breakdown of total industry except energy obtains +0,4% for intermediate goods, except energy, +0,0% for capital goods, +0,1% for durable consumer goods and -0,1% for non-durable consumer goods.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a status quo on the domestic market and a rise of 0,2% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to September of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has increased by 1,5%. For the domestic market it rose by 0,6%, for the non-domestic markets there was a rise of 2,1%.

Belgium - October 2009 : Output price index -0,2%

In October 2009, compared to the previous month, the producer price index of industry excluding construction has decreased by 0,2%. A split of this figure in energy and the rest shows an increase by 0,3% for energy and a decrease by 0,4% for total industry except energy. A further breakdown of total industry except energy obtains -1,3% for intermediate goods, except energy, +1,1% for capital goods, -0,1% for durable consumer goods and -0,3% for non-durable consumer goods.

When the general producer price index is subdivided according to destination, a status quo (+0,0%) on the domestic market and a fall of 0,3% on the non-domestic markets can be observed.

Compared to October of the previous year, the producer price index of total industry excluding construction has decreased by 7,1%. For the domestic market it fell by 8,5%, for the non-domestic markets there was a fall of 6,1%.
